

Design systems are not a design problem
Design systems are not a development problem
Design systems are not a company problem
Design systems are an industry problem

Don't map components to values;
map them to their design intent